FIG. 5

The diagram illustrates a hierarchical structure with two main sections: ACTUAL CATEGORIES (top) and VIRTUAL CATEGORIES (bottom), separated by a dashed line. Both sections are organized into three levels: PARENT, CHILD, and GRAND CHILD.

ACTUAL CATEGORIES:

- PARENT: COMMERCIAL TRUCK, PASSENGER VEHICLE, BOATS, AIRCRAFT.
- CHILD: VOLVO (from COMMERCIAL TRUCK), FORD (from PASSENGER VEHICLE), FERRARI (from PASSENGER VEHICLE).
- GRAND CHILD: PROBE (from FORD), TAURUS (from FORD), MODEL T (from FORD).

VIRTUAL CATEGORIES:

- PARENT: BORING CARS, LUXURY CARS, COLLECTOR CARS.
- CHILD: FORD (from BORING CARS), FORD (from COLLECTOR CARS).
- GRAND CHILD: PROBE (from FORD), TAURUS (from FORD), MODEL A (from FORD), MODEL T (from FORD).

Arrows indicate the flow from parent to child and child to grand child. A dashed line separates the actual and virtual categories. A curved arrow labeled 100 points from the GRAND CHILD level of the actual categories to the GRAND CHILD level of the virtual categories. A curved arrow labeled 102 points from the GRAND CHILD level of the virtual categories back to the GRAND CHILD level of the actual categories.
